

OUR MISSION: CREATING JOBS

EMPOWERING COMMUNITY TRANSFORMATION

What's the Impact of a Job?

Weaving work is stable, safe, flexible and well-paid. The impact of a long-term job is momentous: it breaks the cycle of extreme poverty and changes the trajectory of families for generations.

We are committed to nourishing whole communities through comprehensive sustainable development. Here are a few examples of our "Four Pillars of Sustainability."

ECONOMIC HEALTH

650% INCREASE IN INCOME FOR WEAVERS.

A weaver earns more in one week than her whole family could earn in a month of back-breaking field labor.

ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP

FOR EACH WEAVER, 5+ PEOPLE (A WHOLE FAMILY) ARE FREED FROM SLASH + BURN FARMING

Weaver families can explore sustainable farming + entrepreneurship instead!

SOCIAL EQUITY

75-100% OF CHILDREN IN HILL TRIBE FAMILIES WORK IN THE FIELDS ALONGSIDE THEIR PARENTS

Children of weavers can attend school instead—without going hungry.

CULTURAL VITALITY

Deference to cultural autonomy is key to preserving community heritage and traditions.
